SCHOOL DEDICATION

At St. Mary's Catholic Church
This Afternoon at 3.

SERMON TO BE IN GERMAN

And Cardinal Gibbons Will Conduct the Ceremonies.

NEW BUILDING A MODEL

Amusement Features Not Overlooked.
Great Growth of Parish Due to Pastor's Efforts.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons will dedicate the new St. Mary's parochial school and parish hall, in connection with St. Mary's Catholic Church (German), located on 5th street northwest between G and H streets. Announcement has been made that the ceremony will be gone through with more than ordinary enthusiasm on the part of the congregation of the church, which has contributed generously in order that the new structure might be in every sense a fitting place for the youth, and at the same time serve as a gathering place for the congregation.

Assisting Cardinal Gibbons at the ceremony of dedication will be a large number of clergy, including several from out of town. The sermon will be preached in German by a father of the Redemptorist Order, and it is expected that Cardinal Gibbons will make a short address in English. Previous to the dedicatory ceremonies a procession will form in the rectory of the parish on 6th street, and the cardinal and assisting clergy will be escorted to the new school by the clergy, acolytes and the members of the various male organizations of the parish. These include the Windthorst Club, the St. Mary's Branch of the Catholic Knights of America, St. Boniface Society and St. Joseph Society.

Scholastic Year to Open.

The scholastic year will open at St. Mary's Monday morning, when it is expected that the enrollment of the children of the parish will be larger than ever before. And at night, from 7 until 10:30 o'clock, there will be a public opening and inspection of the building. It is thought that the new building, which adjoins St. Mary's Church on the left, is a model for the uses for which it was designed. Julius Wenig, an active member of the parish, was the architect.

The building is complete with every requirement of health and comfort, and besides the school facilities has an assembly hall, reading room, billiard room and bowling alleys. Several large, bright classrooms, with accommodations for over 200 children, open into wide, well-ventilated corridors.

The younger men of the parish are privileged to enjoy the recreative features Monday and Wednesday evenings, the older men Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and the ladies of the parish Friday evening.

Amusement Features Popular.

The amusement features were no sooner installed than use was made of them by the members of the congregation. One of the most enthusiastic participants is Rev. Frank A. Wunnenberg, the popular pastor of St. Mary's Church. Enthusiasm has characterized his every endeavor since coming to St. Mary's over two years ago as the successor of Rev. Charles Warren Currier. It was through the former's energy and perseverance that the movement for a new school was inaugurated, and with the hearty co-operation of the Windthorst Club and the various other congregational societies it has been brought to a happy consummation.

Besides the erection of the new school, Father Wunnenberg has been the energizing force behind a number of other commendable improvements in connection with St. Mary's parish and has vastly improved the church property, making it one of the most pleasing Catholic foundations in this city. The parish equipment appears complete in every detail. It has a fine church for the benefit of the elders; a well-equipped orphanage adjoining the school, and finally a cemetery, located between North Capitol street and Lincoln avenue. Thus the German-American congregation has sought to brighten the pathway of its communicants as far as human ingenuity is capable, while also providing a final resting place when their lives have been spent.

Growth of the Parish.

During the past two years the parish has had an unprecedented growth, and the members of the congregation think great credit is due to the present pastor, Father Wunnenberg was born in Baltimore in 1870 and made his college course at Loyola. Deciding to join the priesthood, he entered St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, and was ordained November 15, 1895. His first mission was to St. Mary's Church, this city, where he remained one year as an assistant pastor, after which he traveled extensively. He had charges in various counties in Maryland before coming to this city.

Early History of Church.

The Rev. M. Allig, the founder and first pastor of St. Mary's Church, came to Washington in December, 1845, and Sunday, December 17, of that year he assembled the Germans of Washington in the basement of old St. Matthew's Church and conducted divine service there. The attendance was hardly large enough to half fill the basement. During the following few weeks Father Allig hunted up the Germans of the District of Columbia, and also solicited subscriptions for a church, but the result of his errand was very discouraging—so much so that he and the little flock of Germans early gave up the idea of having their own house of worship.

Finally it was decided to rent a house on 8th street northwest between I and M streets, and there divine service was held in the second-story room. The little congregation increased in a short while, and the rented house could not accommodate all. It was said that Gen. Van Ness was willing to give land for the use of a German Catholic congregation, and Father Allig obtained it. Building was begun at once. A church and rectory costing $45,000 was ready for use October 18, 1846.

In 1850 Father Allig organized the parish school and placed it in care of the Notre Dame Sisters, in whose care it is today. Father Allig died in 1882 and was succeeded by the Rev. Francis Tewes, who built the present rectory. Father Tewes died in 1889 and was succeeded by the Rev. Dr. George Glash. He at once went to work building the present magnificent church, without doubt the most beautiful church in the city. The cost of the church was $125,000.

Dr. Glash died in 1900, and the Rev. Dr. Currier became pastor. He built a magnificent home for the Sisters and a new parsonage for German orphan girls. Father Currier having resigned in 1906 to take up work among the Indians, the Rev. Father A. B. Wunnenberg, the present pastor, was appointed. On account of the increased attendance at school, and realizing the necessity of a more modern building, as the old one had been built in 1853, he decided to build a new and modern school house and parish hall. Every one, and particularly the young people of the parish and members of the Windthorst Club, became interested in this project. In less than a year through the efforts of the Windthorst Club a collection of over $10,000 was raised. November 4 of last year the corner stone of the new school was blessed and placed in position by the Most Rev. Diomed Falcio, apostolic delegate.

Alleges Illegal Trespass.

George T. Robertson, owner of premises 1123 Shepherd's court, has been sued by David Zeller, a former tenant of the property, for $7,000 damages for alleged illegal trespass.

According to the declaration filed by Attorneys Millan & Smith, Robertson, May 1 last, entered the home of his tenant, made a loud noise and disturbance, much to the chagrin of Mr. Zeller, for which the latter asks that he be awarded damages to the extent of $2,000. Later in the day, it is alleged, Robertson entered the yard of the tenant and tore down fences and placed Zeller and his family in fear of bodily harm. This visit, it is said, damaged the plaintiff to the extent of $5,000.

SEPTEMBER 16 HIS DAY.

Events of Mr. Cotter's Life Partial to That Date.

That truth is sometimes stranger than fiction seems to be borne out in the experience of Mr. D. J. Cotter, in whose history the date "September 16" seems to have been the starting point of many epochs. Mr. Cotter is a veteran soldier of the civil war and resides at 1706 39th street, West Washington. He was born September 16, 1849, in Glasgow, Scotland, and with his parents he sailed for the United States September 16, 1861. He enlisted in the Union army September 16, and was wounded September 16. He fell overboard while at sea on another September 16, being rescued with difficulty.

Continuing, Mr. Cotter says, he was married September 16, and his first child was born on September 16. Last year he took a trip to Europe and was assigned to room 13 on the steamship Teutonic. The vessel, although advertised to sail on an earlier date, was delayed for some reason—perhaps because he secured room 13—and left the port of New York September 16.

"It seems," said Mr. Cotter last night, "that there is some mystic connection between my career and September 16. I suppose I will die some September 16, but hope it will not be soon."

"Just Slow," Says Crouse.

Charged with the embezzlement of $274.00 from the Cincinnati Grain Company July 24 last, Richard W. Crouse, the local agent, with an office in the Central National Bank building, was taken into custody last night at Herndon, Va., and brought back to town in charge of Detective Warren of headquarters. He will be given a hearing in the Police Court Monday.

Crouse was the agent of the grain company in this city, and it is alleged that he sold a consignment of grain sent to him here last July and failed to turn over the proceeds.

Crouse denies that he had any intention of keeping the money for himself, but says that he was merely slow in making his returns.

S. W. V. Delegates Back.

Col. Herbert W. Meyer, Capt. Thomas A. Green, Past National Judge Advocate John Lewis Smith, Senior Vice Department Commander Daniel C. Eberly, J. A. Costello and other delegates and representatives from the District to the national encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans at Cedar Point, Ohio, have returned to this city.
